Galaxy Entertainment Group Exhibits 3D Model of Galaxy Macau Phase 1 and 2

Macau, Special Administrative Region of the People’s Republic of China, (February 14, 2013) – Nearly a year into the announcement of Galaxy Entertainment Group (“GEG”)’s development plan for Galaxy Macau™ Phase 2, the project has already made good progress and is continuing smoothly. To share this highly anticipated project with the general public, an exquisite 3D model of Phase 1 and 2 is exhibited at the lobby of the resort property to offer local residents and tourists an opportunity to preview the all-round future exterior of the “New Palace of Asia”.

The 3D model is not only adorned with detailed replications of the popular facilities at Phase 1, such as the Grand Resort Deck, tropical gardens and resort villas, but it also reveals the stunning design of Phase 2 to the visiting guests. The refined detail of the model has drawn many visitors to stop by and appreciate the glamorous architectural design that is going to transform the skyline of Cotai.

Galaxy Macau Phase 2 is a major development project of GEG. The entire GEG team has been working very hard to ensure that all works are carried out in a safe and timely manner. The project introduces 2 renowned luxury hotel brands namely the Ritz-Carlton and JW Marriott, adding up to a grand total of over 3,600 rooms and suites across 5 luxury hotels. In addition to enlarging the gaming space, Phase 2 will expand the retail space to over 100,000 square meters to accommodate more than 200 luxury stores; food and beverage offerings will also be enriched to over 100 outlets.

Now that the construction has started for about a year, GEG specially dedicates a 3D model of Phase 1 and 2 to let its visiting guests preview the magnificent view of these monumental architectures standing on Cotai. Upon the completion of Phase 2 estimated to be in 2015, the 2 phases on a contiguous piece of land will create the most exceptional holiday experience for the visiting guests.
